Watermelon's dress of green

Trimmed in rose pink you all have seen;

She has such pleasant smiling ways,

We welcome her on summer days.

Asparagus in early spring

Came up to hear the robins sing;

When she peeped out her dress was white;

It turned green in the sunshine bright.

Said Rutabaga Turnip: "Wow!

I just escaped that hungry cow;

I jumped behind a great big tree

Or she'd have surely eaten me!"

Said Spinach: "In my dress of green I'm just as happy as a queen.
I'm truly glad that I am good
For little babies' early food."

The Blueberry children love to run

Around the hillsides in the sun;

Smiling and jolly, plump and sweet,

Best-natured youngsters one could meet.

"Cherries are ripe," said Old Blue Jay
As he flew by one August day;
"Why, he means us," the Cherries cried,
"Perhaps we'd better go inside."

The String Beans love to climb a pole,
And so their clothes are seldom whole.
Mother Bean said: "I'll mend the tatters;
While they are happy, nothing matters!"

Red Pepper said a biting word
Which Miss Green Pepper overheard;
Said she: "Hot words you can't recall;
Better not say such things at all."

Little Wild Strawberry came down

To visit with her folks in town;

She's a sweet child with charming ways,

And blushes modestly at praise.

The pretty little ladies Rice
You'll always turn to look at twice;
They came from India long ago,
And now they're everywhere you go.

The Green Pea children went to sail

On the Sauce Pan ocean in a gale;

"This boat's a shell," they cried; "Dear me!

We might capsize in this deep sea."

The Blackberry children love to run
And play beneath the August sun
Until each little maid and man
Takes on a friendly coat of tan.

Said Garlic: "My home used to be In far-off, sunny Sicily;
But people here think I'm a blessing,
I make such splendid salad dressing."
